De l'Aiglon Park

Visit the park's lookout for a panoramic view of Mount Orford and the Lake Magog Valley.

This small 1,100 m² park owes its name to a former nearby crêperie, itself inspired by "the Eaglet," the nickname of Napoleon's son. A true natural lookout point, it offers an exceptional view of the marsh, Lake Magog, and several peaks: Mount Orford, Owl's Head, Jay Peak, Elephant Mountain, and Sutton Mountain. A must-stop for cyclists after climbing the hill!
