Incomparable Potton

Who hasn't gone for a Sunday car ride, crammed in the back seat with one's brothers and sisters? Potton Township (Mansonville) provides an ideal locale for such an outing, offering unique vistas on Mt. Owl's Head, the Sutton mountains and Mt. Jay Peak, to name but a few.

The Incomparable Potton itinerary was created a few years ago to showcase Potton's scenic roads. While pure pleasure abounds along these 50 km, a set of good winter tires is essential for most of the roads are gravel.

The Round Barn

A hundred-year-old round barn stands proudly in the centre of Mansonville, a village in Potton Township. Built in 1911-1912, the barn served a number of dairy farmers over the years. In 2010, it was donated to the municipality of Potton Township. The building has been the focus of internationally recognized restoration efforts. Currently, for safety reasons, visitors can view the barn from the outside.

Chemin du Lac / chemin Owl's Head

Le chemin du Lac, qui devient le chemin Owl's Head plus au sud est un incontournable pour qui aime contempler les paysages de la MRC de Memphrémagog. En roulant vers le sud il nous offre des vues sur le Mont Owl's Head, le Mont Éléphant et Sugar Loaf. Roulez jusqu'au bout de ce chemin, l'altitude monte quelque peu, on roule sur la gravelle et on ralentit pour savourer les vues incroyables sur le Mont Jay Peak et les Appalaches.
